

Do You Have Protection? CEO Q&A

Q: As CEO You're Protecting the Organization – What's Protecting YOU?

- Risk is everywhere and comes in many forms. You manage risk with your Policy and Procedures.
- Having effective policies and procedures is the first part of your protection.
- Making sure everyone is aware of and following your policies and procedures is the second part.

How are you currently managing your Policies and Procedures?

What are the consequences of a "Failure to Comply" with your Policies and Procedures?

Can you know your policies and procedures are in place and being followed?
